DIRECTORS DECIDE TO SELL OAK LAWN

Sale To Take Place December 23, at Ten O'clock at the Post-office.

The Oak Lawn hospital property will be sold at public auction. This decision was reached this morning at a meeting of the board of directors held in Senator J. M. Whitehead's office.

The hospital was established about eighteen years ago by twenty stockholders who put in $10 each for the purpose of having a place where emergency cases could be handled.

The hospital was first located in the old Barstow house which was moved from its location on North River street to its present location on Mineral Point avenue. The work was carried on here with more or less success for a number of years until after the death of Henry Palmer, who left $2,000 in his will for the use of the hospital. This money was taken by the directors and invested in the old Judd homestead in the Second ward and called Oak Lawn.

The building was improved for hospital purposes and the late Dr. Henry Palmer equipped an operating room at a cost of about $1,000. The hospital was conducted here for a number of years, but not proving a success the service was discontinued and for the last few years has not been used for hospital purposes. The Palmer Memorial hospital getting the most of the cases after it was established. The meeting this morning was called for the purpose of disposing of the property and winding up the business of the association. It was decided the best thing to do under the circumstances was to sell the property and it will be put up at auction at the front door of the post-office on December 23 at 10 o'clock a. m.

The present officers of the association are John Thoroughgood, Pres., S. B. Hedges, Sec., and Fred S. Winslow, Treas.

DYNAMITE USED BY FRENCH STRIKERS

Riots Are Frequent, and Guards Are Placed at Mines and Miners' Homes.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.) Paris, Nov. 3.—Paris coal strikers and their sympathizers have begun the use of dynamite and on Saturday a huge dynamite cartridge was thrown and exploded under the window of a miner of St. Etienne which caused some damage. There have also been similar disturbances at different mining towns to such an extent that extra guards are being placed over the property of the mines and the homes of the miners who still remain at work. At Little a meeting between the miners and the operators of the district du Nord was held but no solution of the difficulty was reached and the strike still continues. The mining companies have proposed a system of pensions for aged miners but this has not met with the approval of the leaders of the strike and they have demanded arbitration and will not settle without their demands.

THREE MEN ROB A RICH INDIAN

Robbers Secure Twenty-Two Thousand in Gold Pieces and $100 Bills.

THIEVES ESCAPE

One Was Disguised as a Squaw, and Matchell, the Man Robbed, Was Not at Home.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.) Missoula, Mont., Nov. 3.—News has been received here of the daring robbery of twenty-two thousand dollars from a Flat Head Indian, named Matchell of Near Plains on Saturday night last by three men one of whom was disguised as a squaw.

Were Disguised. One of the robbers was disguised as a squaw and while Matchell was away engaged Mrs. Matchell in conversation. She discovered the mistake and while waiting for help the men got away with the money. They have not been caught.

Was in Bills. The money taken was in bills and gold and Mr. Matchell, who is the richest man on the reservation had the money in his house in $100 bills and twenty dollar gold pieces.

LITTLE TOT'S DEATH IS CHARGED TO SIRE

Father Is Said to Have Kicked and Stoned His Five-Year-Old Boy.

Inez, Ky., Nov. 3.—Pleasant Spradling is held here on the charge of having murdered his 5-year-old boy and threatening to kill the rest of his children.

With his three daughters and the boy the father was herding sheep. The boy was left by himself for a while and amused himself by peeling the loose bark off a tree. When the father returned and saw the stripped bark he struck the boy on the head with a stone, knocking him down, and then kicked him in the head until he was dead.

Spradling threatened his daughters with a like fate if they ever told what had occurred. Later he took his eldest daughter and went to the mountains. His wife hired neighbors to bury the body of the child, and then went to the home of Judge E. Hensley, who started an investigation.

The missing daughter turned up barefooted and ragged, after her escape from her father in the mountains. She was immediately taken before the grand jury and testified to how her father killed the boy and threatened her life and that of her mother. Spradling will be given a speedy trial.

RICH STRIKE OF GOLD IN IDAHO

Adventurous Miners Travel All Night to Reach the Scene.

Boise, Idaho, Nov. 3.—The stampede following the rich discovery of gold in the Black Hornet district is comparable to the mining rushes of the early days. Knowledge of the find got out and men started out at once to secure claims. They kept going all night and several hundred men rushed to the scene of the discovery. The discovery is a hitherto unknown vein. The lead was blind and was opened in doing some work on another vein. The vein has been opened at several other points. At one point 600 feet from the original discovery rich ore was met with and in all the other good ore shows.

VOLCANO CAUSES IMMENSE LOSSES

Herds of Cattle Are Killed and Stampeded, and Coffee Plantations Are Buried.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.) Tapachula, Nov. 3.—Growers of coffee at the neighboring Hacienda have suffered greatly from the volcanic eruption in Guatemala and their crops are covered over with a layer of ashes and soot that bids fair to totally ruin not only the present crop, but also to prove a great hindrance to any crop in the future. Not only are the fields choked with rubbish and ashes but also the water ways are filled up and great fear of a drought for the entire country is felt unless the obstacles can be removed. While the coffee raisers have suffered large losses the cattle men have been the heaviest losers and their loss will amount into the thousands, whole herds having been stamped into the mountains or killed. Darkness has covered the whole country for many days and all of the damage has not yet been learned.

Waukesha Man Attacks His Father and Mother with a Club and Chair.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.) Waukesha, Wis., Nov. 3.—George Bowers, Jr., attempted to murder his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bowers, Sr., at their home six miles north of this city last evening. A heavy oak chair and a wooden cudgel were the weapons used. Mrs. Bowers was fatally injured. Bowers was captured by Sheriff Blair at a farm near by and is in jail. He is suffering from wounds received in a fight with farm hands earlier in the evening.

MUST INCREASE
NAVAL OFFICERS

In the Future the Course at Annapolis Will Be Three Years Instead of Four.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.) Annapolis, Md., Nov. 3.—An order has been issued by the naval department and forwarded to the naval academy providing for a three-year course at the naval academy instead of a four-year course. This is to be continued for an indefinite period. This is the most sweeping change that has taken place in the curriculum of the naval academy in years, and is made on account of the pressing need of naval officers. The next two classes will graduate in February instead of June and thereafter they will graduate a year earlier.

OCTOBER CROP REPORT SHOWS INJURY BY RAIN

Conditions in Central Valleys Favorable for Hardening Corn, With the Reverse in Lake Regions.

Washington, Nov. 3.—The crop report issued by the agricultural department gives the following summary of the situation at the close of the month:

The month as a whole was mild, with rainfall generally sufficient, and while the latter was excessive over a large part of the Atlantic coast and Gulf districts little injury resulted therefrom, except in the early part of the month. In the central valleys the conditions were generally favorable for hardening corn, but a considerable portion of the crop in the lake region and over the northern portions of the Mississippi and Missouri valleys is yet soft.

Rains caused considerable injury to cotton during the early part of the month, especially in the central and western portions of the belt. The weather of the middle and latter part of the month was more favorable and the development of a fair crop in some localities resulted. At the close of the month picking was still in progress and with delay of frosts considerable will yet be gathered, and most favorable prospects for top crop being reported from northern and central Texas.

Winter wheat seeding made satisfactory progress and was largely completed by the close of the month in the principal winter wheat states. The early sown has, as a rule, germinated well, good stands being generally reported. Fly is, however, quite extensively reported from the states of the Ohio and central Mississippi valleys.

A Young Lady on Courtship.

Did anybody ever hear a gushing, extravagant young lady tell what she thought about anything extraordinary. Well, that's nothing to what they write. We have a short story written by one, and find that "splendid" occurs sixty-four times; "beautiful," seventy-seven; "delightful," sixty-one; "nice," 611; "delicious," 205; "lovely," sixty-three. Of course she was writing about courtship.

HUNTING TRIP NOT A SUCCESS

President Fails to Shoot Any Game, But Is Not Discouraged by His Luck.

GOES HOME TO VOTE

Visited Battlefields of the War of the Rebellion, and Commends Valor of Both Armies.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.) Brandy, Va., Nov. 3.—President Roosevelt and party left this morning for Washington. The President was not discouraged by his failure to shoot any turkeys and said that after election he would come again. Arrives in Washington. Washington, D. C., Nov. 3.—President Roosevelt arrived here shortly before noon and left at once for Oyster Bay where he will cast his vote tomorrow. He said to friends that he had a good time.

Visited Battlefields. He said that he had seen the great battlefields of the war of the rebellion and that: "We are all alike now and can glory alike in the valor of each side and devotion to duty as each side saw its duty."

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.) Paris, Nov. 3.—Criticism of the action of President Loubet as compared with that of President Roosevelt in settling the coal strike question is very severe.

CERTIFICATION IS NOT A GUARANTEE

Important Decision Is Made in Case of Detroit City Savings Bank Check.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 3.—In the Circuit court Judge Brooke directed a verdict for the plaintiff in the suit of the First National bank vs. Cameron, Currie & Co. to recover on a certified check of Frank C. Andrews on the wrecked City Savings bank for $50,000, which was indorsed by Currie & Co. Judge Brooke sustained the contention of the plaintiffs that the certification, "Good. Schrage, teller" (of the City Savings bank), was not a legal certification, on the ground that Frank C. Andrews had no funds in the City Savings bank at the time the certification was made. This action on the part of the court is equivalent to holding that a fraudulent certification has no force and effect. The decision will be appealed to the Supreme court. If upheld it will affect the validity of all the $662,000 worth of overcertified checks issued by Andrews.

GAS EXPLOSION IN COAL MINE

Three Ohio Men Are Overcome by the Subtle Fluid.

New Straitsville, O., Nov. 3.—Maurice O'Brien, a miner; Charles Sampson, a stable boss, and Herbert Coran, a bookkeeper, were killed by an explosion of gas in the Lost Run mine, owned by the Buckeye Coal company, near here. It is supposed the gas found its way into the mine from an adjoining mine, which has been abandoned for several years, probably through an opening made in digging out the coal. It is believed the men went into the mine to explore it and that the gas was ignited by the lights they carried. The bodies, which were found some distance from the entrance, were badly burned and mangled.

The First New England Sermon.

In the library of the late Dr. Claudius B. Webster of Concord has been found a copy of the first sermon preached in New England. The preacher was Robert Cushman and the sermon was preached at Plymouth, Mass., Dec. 12, 1621. The subject was "The Sin and Danger of Self-Love," and the text was I Cor. x. 24: "Let no man seek his own; but every man another's wealth."

COLOMBIAN PEOPLE WANT CANAL BUILT

General Public Sentiment Favors the United States Plan—Colombian Officials Criticized.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.) Kingston, Jamaica, Nov. 3.—The mail steamship Trent which has just arrived from Colon reports that the feeling of the Colombian people as to placing of a trans-oceanic canal is strongly favorable to the United States' plan and directly in opposition to the methods pursued by the Colombian government in asking such a sum for the land and right of way that it is possible that the canal project will have to be abandoned. The talk of ending all negotiations between the United States government and the Colombian has wrought the people up to a high pitch of anger against their officials and they are freely criticizing their officials for their actions in the matter. In the opinion of those well posted on the Colombian affairs it is thought that this will have much effect upon the government and may bring about the desired treaty.

Danger of Dyeing. Cross—Do you think that dyeing the hair is as dangerous as the doctors make out? Crabbe—Certainly; you may take my word for it. Only last year a rich uncle of mine took to dyeing his hair and in three weeks he was married to a widow with four children.

NEW WITNESSES FOR MOLINEUX

To Testify That Prisoner Was Not the Person Who Mailed Package of Poison.

CALLED CRANKS

State's Attorney Believes the New Evidence Will Not Influence the Jury.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.) New York, Nov. 3.—Two new witnesses of great importance have appeared to the aid of Roland Molineux in his fight to gain his freedom. Whether they take the witness chair will depend upon the decision of Molineux's council. The state attorneys call the two cranks and claim that their testimony will not have any effect upon the decision of the grand jury.

Claims Knowledge. One new witness is a woman and she claims to have seen the poison package mailed and that it was not by Molineux. She is very positive about her testimony and it may be important to the defense.

The Other Witness. John F. Hopkins of Newark, N. J., will testify that he sold the bottle of bromo-seltzer in which the poison was sent and that it was a red bearded man who bought it. He also saw the same man buy the silver holder.

NEARLY READY TO MAKE CEREAL FOOD

New Machinery at the Potato Flake Factory Will Be Tested Very Soon.

Unless unexpected delays are met with the Concentrated Flaked Potato company's factory will be in operation before the end of the week. The shafting is nearly all in place and as soon as that part of the work is done the machinery will be connected, and the process of manufacturing the food product will begin. Repeated interruptions and unlooked for difficulties have greatly hindered the work of installing the plant, but it is hoped that the most serious of these troubles are past.

It is not to be understood, says Mr. Bunyan, that the plant will begin operations to its fullest capacity. That is, the present machinery is only of a limited output, and will be used until the larger and more perfected apparatus is installed at a later date. At present about twenty-five bushels of potatoes can be handled a day. From the first the days will be twenty-four hours in length, the factory to work constantly.

Changes are Possible. In a degree this apparatus is experimental. No actual trial has ever been made of a similar mechanical process, and it is more than probable that there will be some minor details in which it will be necessary to make alterations before the orders can be placed for a more capacious equipment. Mr. Dunyan has not the slightest doubt of the success of this system, but he cannot be sure that the machinery will work perfectly as he at first designed it.

Perhaps within less than a month after the first product has been turned out, it will be possible to begin work on a large scale. Thus far the company has done nothing but made expenditures, as they are naturally anxious to put their plant on a paying basis at once. If a few days will suffice to indicate the success or shortcomings of the present machinery, no further delay will be allowed, but the process of installing the new and more complete equipment will begin at once.

Few Workmen Needed. Practically no help will be needed this week to begin the work. A number of men have been employed on the building for some weeks and no more will be needed. Throngs of girls have applied at the office for work, but they have all been turned away, as there will be nothing for them to do at present. Few realize how completely mechanical the process is, and how few employees will be needed.

BROKEN CABLE KILLS MINERS

Fatal Accident in Coal Shaft at Newton, Iowa.

Newton, Ia., Nov. 3.—Five men fell fifty feet down a coal shaft and some of them cannot recover. The men were being elevated to the surface of French Brothers' mine at the close of work. The cable broke just as they reached the top, and they dropped to the bottom of the shaft with lightning rapidity. The men were found piled in a heap at the bottom, all unconscious.

Kaiser's Hunting Record.

Berlin, Nov. 3.—The Royal Gamekeepers' bureau has kept a record of Emperor William's hunting. During thirty years he has killed 47,443 pieces of game, including 3,989 deer, elk or chamois, 2,823 wild boars, 19,508 hares or rabbits, and 18,981 pheasants.

LESSON IN AMERICAN HISTORY IN PUZZLE

Portsmouth, like Providence, Rhode Island, was founded because of the banishment of a religious teacher from Massachusetts. Ann Hutchinson was a general favorite in the Massachusetts colony because of her beauty, wit and ministrations to the sick, but like Roger Williams she became unpopular with the authorities because of peculiar religious teachings and in 1635 was, with several followers, banished from the colony. They started for Delaware Bay, but stopped at Providence to visit Williams, and he induced them to settle in Rhode Island. They did so and founded Portsmouth. Ann Hutchinson left her Portsmouth home in 1642 and settled near New Amsterdam, where she was murdered by the Indians. She was a widow at this time, and her only child, a daughter of a few years, was carried away captive, but was recovered some years later.

ROGER WILLIAMS PLEADING WITH CANONICUS. Find the Chief of the Pequod.

Colonists from Massachusetts settled in Connecticut at about the time of the banishment from Salem of Roger Williams. In 1637 the Pequot Indians threatened a war of extermination against the whites and attempted to form a coalition with the Narragansett Indians to accomplish this. Roger Williams was appealed to to prevent the coalition if possible. He arrived at the lodge of Canonicus, chief of the Narragansetts, while the Pequot messengers were there, and after several days of entreaty prevented Canonicus from turning his 5,000 warriors loose upon the white settlers.

Full Back Uses Knife. Mount Vernon, N. Y., Nov. 3.—David Smith, a young colored man, while trying to make a touchdown in a football game was stabbed twice by Matthew Jenkins, another colored player, and the full back on the opposing team.

Babe Finds Morphine. Chicago, Nov. 3.—Philip Preston, 14 months old, died from morphine poisoning. The little one found a bottle containing morphine in a coal bucket and swallowed the drug.

Seek Carnegie Libraries. London, Nov. 3.—During July, August and September Andrew Carnegie received 309 applications for assistance in the establishment of free libraries.

Another Pilgrim Monument. There is to be one more monument to the Pilgrims. The Massachusetts legislature this year appropriated $25,000 for a monument on the outer point of Cape Cod to commemorate the adoption of the Pilgrim compact of government. This was made contingent upon the contribution of an equal amount by the association on or before July 5, 1905. It is proposed to erect a rugged obelisk 200 feet high, placed upon an eminence on the outermost point of Cape Cod, where all passing at sea may see it.

Matrimonial Obligations. In France a man on entering the bonds of matrimony renders himself legally responsible not only for the support of his wife, but for that of her parents in case they should become destitute, and the same obligation is incurred by the wife in regard to the father and mother of her husband.

To Destroy the Malarial Germ. A remedy for malaria which is said to be very efficacious, particularly for those who cannot take quinine, is a wineglass of the best port wine upon which has been sprinkled as much cayenne pepper as the patient can stand. The preparation should be taken twice a day.

GOV. YATES HOLDING HIS OWN

Physician Reports He is Doing Well Under the Circumstances.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 3.—Little change was apparent in the condition of Gov. Yates Sunday. Throughout the day his temperature had ranged from 101 to 102.3, which is a degree lower than the highest point the fever has reached since his illness began. The highest temperature was recorded Friday, close to 101 degrees. Dr. L. C. Taylor said the patient is doing as well as can be expected. He looks for no serious or sudden change. The pulse remained from 94 to 96, which Dr. Taylor considered very favorable for a patient with as much fever as Gov. Yates has.

DANISH LUTHERAN COLLEGE

New Religious Educational Institution Is Dedicated.

Racine, Wis., Nov. 3.—The Martin Luther college in this city, the only Danish Lutheran college in the northwest, has been dedicated. The college was erected at a cost of $26,000 after five years of labor among the Danish Lutherans of this city and Oconto and Neenah. The college is owned by an association, no one being allowed to own over twenty-five shares of stock. The college will give commercial and classical courses and also prepare students for law and theological universities.

Cholera on the Wane.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Latest reports from Egypt to the state department show a marked diminution of the number cases of cholera. A cablegram received from Hubbard Smith, acting consul general at Cairo, reports that since October 25 there have been 225 cases of the disease and 212 deaths in all Egypt.

Buys Coal Roads.

Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 3.—It is ascertained that the Southern railway has purchased the Tennessee Northern, the Harriman and Northeastern and the Knoxville and Oato railroads, all of them coal roads in this vicinity, with a total of 110 miles.

Insanity Is Infectious. London, Nov. 3.—The Medizinische Rundschau of Vienna publishes an article by a lunacy expert, who states that insanity is infectious. The writer cites cases which have come under his notice which bear out his contention.

Pain

In My Heart I Could Not Lie Down.

Was On The Verge Of Insanity.

Choking Sensations I Was Afraid To Sleep.

"For years I was troubled with pain around the heart, fluttering and choking sensations—part of the time could not lie down. In short I was a nervous wreck; such violent jerking of the arms and limbs; nervous prostration—in fact was on the verge of insanity—was afraid to sleep for fear I would never awaken. I saw a testimonial in our paper from a man similarly afflicted, and an account of the help he derived from the use of Dr. Miles' remedies. By the persistent use of the Heart Cure, Nerve and Pain Pills I soon felt like a new man. I am never without these remedies now. In writing the above I feel that the half has not been told. No one who has not been through it knows or can know what 'on the verge of insanity' means. Your remedies were surely a god-send to me. There is scarcely a week but what I recommend them and in nearly every case induce someone to try your remedies, and the results are so satisfactory that they continue to take them. One recent instance I recall. I was in Lawrence and called to see a friend who was very sick with muscular rheumatism. She was nearly crazed with pain and had given up the money to my mother to get her some morphine to quiet the pain. I told her what your Pain Pills had done for me, and finally persuaded her to send for them. She had only to take two of the Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills and she was free from pain."—Mrs. Arthur Osborn, Decatur, Mich.

DO YOUR DUTY

Tomorrow is the day when every American voter is expected to do his duty by going to the polls and casting his ballot for the candidate of his choice. The man who does not do this has no right to complain about results. It is easy to shirk responsibility and join the ranks of kickers.

Every republican in the city should be interested in the success of the republican ticket. There is no division of sentiment so far as the congressional legislative and county ticket is concerned, and there should be no lack of loyal support. The candidates nominated for county offices are entitled to the full vote of the party and the legislative candidates are very important. The election of Mr. Valentine to the assembly means an unconditional vote for Senator Spooner and there should be no doubt of his election.

So far as the state ticket is concerned there is more or less indifference and some republicans openly declare that they will vote for Rose, not because they like him or the party he represents, but because they think that La Folletteism should be rebuked. Others claim that they will shirk all responsibility, so far as the state ticket is concerned, while others are so indifferent that they propose to stay away from the polls, and take no part in the election.

These three classes represent the dangerous elements, so far as the success of the republican ticket is concerned. It is unfortunate that these conditions exist, and yet the cold fact remains that they do. No republican can afford to belong to the latter class. The full vote of the city and county should be polled.

Regarding the state ticket every man has made up his mind as to how he intends to vote, and yet republicans should think seriously before they cast a ballot for democracy. If Senator Spooner, after the treatment he has received, can afford to sacrifice personal feeling, as he is doing, to loyalty to republicanism, it would seem that the rank and file of the party can afford to follow his example. It is true that harmony is out of the question under the leadership of Governor La Follette, but it is also true that the welfare of the party is involved and the question of personal responsibility is the grave question that confronts every voter. There will be a hereafter so far as La Folletteism is concerned and the party will free itself from the blight of dictation has cast upon it, but when this purification comes, it will come from within the ranks of the party. Principle, not prejudice, should govern action tomorrow, and if this is done the republican ticket will be elected.

The plan of the post check currency bill is to make money of small denominations, payable to order at any postoffice. All classes of people, sending money by mail, are interested in it. It saves time, is convenient, lessens the expense and guarantees an absolutely safe way for the transmission of small sums by mail. The plan is practicable and has been endorsed by many of the best newspaper men. It is applicable to the farmer on the rural mail route, the merchant in the country or city, the publisher and manufacturer in all sections. The idea is simply an idea of the spirit of evolution characteristic of the American people. It should become a law and be a part of our perfect commercial system.—News Tacoma.

The News states the matter in a nut shell. The masses will be benefited by the post check currency, and the only class opposing it, is the small class who imagine that their business may be affected. The people are entitled to the great convenience that will result from the new currency, and there is every reason why they should have it.

The newspaper is regarded today as the one and only great advertising medium. The money invested in outside schemes is frequently worse than wasted. It may be possible to do business in prosperous times without the aid of advertising, but it is possible to largely increase the business by the judicious use of printer's ink.

The women of the state have the power to aid the public schools tomorrow, by voting for the constitutional amendment and for the candidates for state superintendent who is free from the taint of corruption.

The Ohio campaign is exciting to say the least. Mayor Tom Johnson, of Cleveland, finds it necessary to enforce political arguments with his fist.

To be or not to be, that is the question that confronts anxious candidates aspiring to office. Tomorrow will settle the question and the will of the majority will be accepted as final.

The coal commission finds conditions in the anthracite districts far from ideal. The investigation promises relief from some of the abuses that have long existed.

The school book scandal is a thing of the past. If the governor can stand it without flinching, it should not cause any particular uneasiness in the party.

The hypnotic spell was broken by the governor at Appleton, and many of his old time admirers are wondering where they are at.

Don't forget to vote tomorrow. If you can't vote the straight ticket, vote as straight as you can, but don't fail to vote.

The democrats who assisted in nominating Governor La Follette, if consistent, will vote for him tomorrow.

Indiana is always fighting territory and the state is claimed by both parties this year.

The overworked game wardens will soon be able to take a much needed rest.

There will be plenty of coal at reasonable prices by the first of January.

Governor Odell will win in New York after a hard fought campaign.

If you can't be a La Follette, be a republican tomorrow.

PRESS COMMENT.

Milwaukee Sentinel: It should be definitely understood by women voters that all new fall hats will not be required as a necessary preparation for election day.

Washington Star: It does seem a little inconsistent for miners to celebrate the fact that they are going back to work by taking an additional day off.

New York Press: It is now in order for Mr. David Bennett Hill to come out and declare that the reason there are no direct taxes is because Governor Odell stole them!

Washington Post: The mayor of San Francisco says poker is not a gambling game, but a game of skill. He takes it that the gentleman has been enjoying a winning streak.

Washington Star: J. Pierpont Morgan is always lucky. He is about the only big capitalist connected with the coal situation who stands a chance of getting away with complimentary mention.

St. Paul Globe: That man who suggested to the Wisconsin court that he ought to be allowed to marry, since his divorced wife had no objection, has a rather crude idea of social rights in such a case of his own.

Rochester Herald: J. Pierpont Morgan will probably be at the head of the defender syndicate. A syndicate without Mr. Morgan at the head would be about as useful as a rooster with its vocal chords detached.

Indianapolis News: The remodelled White House will soon be ready for occupancy, and the hammers of the workmen will be succeeded by those of the occupants. It's a lucky thing for the architect that he doesn't live in Washington.

Kansas City Star: Four men escaped from the Barton county jail at Great Bend on Monday night. How can sheriffs be expected to keep men in jail in Kansas when the election for governor and congressmen is only four or five days off?

Baltimore American: It is pretty hard on a daughter of Jay Gould to be compelled to pledge her life for her husband's debts. Such is frequently the fate, however, of American heiresses who make too great sacrifice to win a title.

Louisville Courier-Journal: Why is it that the presidents, democratic and republican, issue their Thanksgiving proclamations just before election? Has none of them nerve enough to wait until the returns are in and the result announced?

Indianapolis News: People interested in the Wisconsin peat beds expect to make a considerable hole in the anthracite trust's profits in that region. But don't worry about the anthracite barons—the rest of us will make up the difference.

St. Paul Pioneer Press: It may be possible to beat Minnesota butter, but we notice that no state succeeds in doing so. With 223 entries at Milwaukee, against 165 entries by Wisconsin, which had the second exhibit in size, Minnesota scored an average of 91.53 per cent against 90.43 per cent for Wisconsin, 90.39 per cent for Illinols with only 53 entries, and 90.50 per cent for New York with only ten entries. Moreover, Minnesota won the high score prize against 512 contestants in the six months' butter test, with an average of 98.12 per cent. The second prize went to a Wisconsin man, but Minnesota came in for the third prize also.

Boston Herald: We suppose we will have to grin and bear up the decision of King Oscar against us in the Samson dispute. Otherwise we should have to go back on our nice phrases as to the benefits of settling our differences by the peaceful method of arbitration. Give and take is the prescription.

Boston Herald: We think we see a bit of a twinkle in Grover Cleveland's eye when he warns the democrats against allowing the republicans to steal their tariff reform thunder. Nevertheless, the warning is timely. A good many republicans can be seen lurking around in the immediate vicinity of the reform headquarters.

Wausau Pilot: There are those among the republicans who would, probably, like to know all about the primary election law, from a republican standpoint. To those The Pilot would suggest the reading of a speech made by James G. Monahan of Darlington before committees on privileges and elections of the senate and assembly of the Wisconsin legislature, Feb. 12, 1901. Do not vote until you have read that speech, which you can get, no doubt, by dropping a postal to Mr. Monahan.

Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin: Senator Spooner and Senator Quarles are going right along advising republicans to stand together and vote the ticket for the sake of the party and of the principles which the party represent. This is republicanism, this is patriotism. The time to exploit personal or factional differences is not when the party column is moving into action against the common enemy.

Columbus Journal: Western Asiatics and Europeans have indulged in the practice of kissing for several thousand years, and in the past much more frequently than is now customary in the United States. Men in America never think of kissing one another. But elsewhere and in other ages that custom is as was common in addition to the kissing of children and women. Doctors should consider history before they make fool of themselves.

Minneapolis Times: A Wisconsin man who has a shaggy dog has been arrested for cruelty to animals. The gentleman is a chimney sweep and has been his habit to lower the dog into a chimney that seemed to need attention, the hair of the dog and his violent scratchings and scramblings completed the job. Having witnessed frequent canine encounters, we are convinced that there are many dogs that are fond of a rough and tumble life and not averse to dirt. If the Wisconsin chimney sweep's dog is one of that kind, said sweep is not guilty of cruelty. The dog may like the job, and if so it would be cruelty to deprive him of it.

Boston Transcript: Has it been your fortune to taste of the October raspberries and strawberries that brightened two or three corners of the market place last week? People wondered as they saw them if a miracle in gardening had come to pass and the wonder grew as they tasted and found them quite like in flavor to what the fruit the summer brings forth possesses. Fancy a Sunday dinner embracing terrapin Newberg style, mushrooms under glass with cream; roast of grouse with celery salad; and strawberries, big luscious and delightful as dessert. Well, go down to market and make it a reality if you have a desire to do so. It will come high, but remember that coal is going down if Mr. Dr. has his way, and he probably will, and so allow yourself to be extravagant.

TO GIVE WARNING TO CITY OFFICIALS

Fire Alarm Tapper Has Arrived, and Will Be Placed in the City Hall Rotunda.

The city hall fire alarm tapper has arrived and has been installed temporarily in the office of the Chief Engineer. When the balance of the new apparatus arrives it will be placed permanently in the rotunda of the building so that all of the city officers will be notified when there is an alarm of fire and when it is noon.

The cables carrying the wires for the system have been run into the Chief Engineer's office and are ready for connection when the balance of the apparatus arrives which will be in about thirty days.

IMMENSE BELL FOR CITY HALL CLOCK

It Weighs One Thousand Pounds, and Ought To Be Heard Throughout the City.

The bell for the city hall clock has arrived and is stored in the freight department waiting for the balance of the clock. The bell weighs about one thousand pounds and it is twice the size of the bell in the West Side fire station. It is considered large enough to be heard in most any part of the city and will be fully appreciated by the public.

INTERESTED IN THESE TWO MEN

WOMEN WANT TO KNOW ABOUT THE NOMINEES

FOR STATE SUPERINTENDENT

Comparative Educational Qualifications of Karl Mathie and C. P. Cary Are Given.

Frequent requests have been received by the Gazette for a statement of the educational qualifications of the two candidates for state superintendent of public instruction, the information being desired by women who are privileged to vote on school questions at the election tomorrow. In response to this request the following facts have been compiled.

Karl Mathie. Of Wausau, Democratic nominee for the position, is thirty-six years of age. He was educated in the Wausau public schools, completing his course at Lawrence university, from which he graduated with valedictorian honors, and at Harvard college. He was principal at the Wausau High school for four years and superintendent of the public schools of Wausau for the past six years. He has served as president of the Northwestern Wisconsin Teachers' association and as president of the Wisconsin State Teachers' association.

Mr. Mathie is conceded to be one of the best superintendents in the state. He is a born educator and is said to occupy the same position of influence in relation to educational movements in Northern Wisconsin that D. D. Mayne did in the southern part of the state before his retirement. Both worked along similar lines and in the same quiet, intelligent and unassuming way, creating public sentiment which demands the things desired. His sincerity, his enthusiasm and his ability to accomplish things is unquestioned.

Results achieved in the Wausau schools through his efforts prove that he is no mere enthusiast or idle dreamer, but an up-to-date practical and progressive educator. Kindergarten have been introduced, a first class commercial department has been organized and equipped, manual training has been introduced, the courses of study reorganized until they are regraded as models, the professional requirements of teachers have been raised with a corresponding increase in wages, and there has been the introduction and wise encouragement of physical culture, including the erection of gymnasiums. A fine new high school building, seating 850 pupils, has been erected and the grounds contain a fine running track, ball fields and tennis courts.

Facts such as these speak for themselves and Mr. Mathie has the further recommendation of favorably timed school amendment which Supt. L. D. Harvey has worked for so energetically during his term of office.

C. P. Cary. The Republican nominee for the office, is an older man and has also had wide and practical educational experience. He was educated at Chicago university, of which institution he is a graduate, and his teaching experience covers a period of thirty years. He has been a teacher in county schools, principal of village and graded schools, high school principal, county superintendent, supervisor of the training department of a state normal school, a conductor of institutes and superintendent of the State School for the Deaf and Dumb at Delavan.

Mr. Cary came to Wisconsin from Kansas where he was principal of a high school for a short time. He was an assistant in the Milwaukee normal school for nine years and the past year he has been at the state school at Delavan. Mr. Cary's ability as an educator is undoubted and his educational qualifications for the office are conceded.

DEAD CHILD'S BODY FOUND IN GRAVEL

Workmen Make the Discovery While Filling in Trenches on Harrison Street, Saturday.

Workmen engaged in filling in the trenches on Harrison street on Saturday found a still born child wrapped in a cloth and covered with several inches of gravel. The gravel was thrown out of the trenches on Thursday afternoon and the child must have been placed there between Thursday night and Saturday morning. The remains were taken charge of by the officers.

INFORMATION WANTED

Carnes Or Soules Heirs.—Please

The undersigned, for important reasons, would like to have information as to either Jedediah, William, Lewis or Jane Carnes. The sister, Jane Carnes, was first married to David O. Soules, deceased, and had a son named Warren Oscar Soules, as to whom information is also wanted. Said Jane Carnes married a second time, but the writer can not give the name of the husband unless it was Abbey or Dougherty. These persons lived in southern Wisconsin about 1855, how much later is not known. Persons having any knowledge of any one or more of them are requested to bring this advertisement to their notice, and to inform.

CITY NEWS NOTES

Meet Tonight: Regular Meeting of Rock River Hive No. 71, L. O. T. M., Monday evening at 7:30 at East Side Odd Fellows' hall.

Unique Club: There will be a regular meeting of the Unique club this evening. All members are requested to be present.

Sample Ballots: City Clerk Badger is engaged today in distributing the official ballots to the different voters that the bundles are quite bulky.

W. R. C. Meeting: Special meeting Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 sharp to arrange for inspection. All members and officers are especially requested to be present. By order of Mary Dunwiddie, Pres.; Victoria Petter, Sec.

Having A Good Time: A letter received this morning from Alexander Buchanan, who is travelling in England and Scotland with his father, William Buchanan, states they are having a splendid time and expect to start for home in about two weeks.

Banks Closed: Tomorrow being a legal holiday most of the public offices, courts and all of the banks will be closed. The numerous candidates for offices are circulating about today looking up the party leaders and getting their forces in line.

Woman's Mission: The Woman's Foreign Mission circle of Court St. M. E. church will meet with Mrs. Eugene Lowell, 152 Ravine street, corner of North High street, on Wednesday of this week, at 2:45. Subject: Last chapter of Via Christi. Quotations.

District Convention: The fourth annual district convention of District No. 5 of the Woman's Relief Corps will be held at Broadhead, Friday, Nov. 7th. Mrs. Ada P. Kimberley, Sen. Vice Pres. of the department will preside. The work of the order will be exemplified by the Broadhead Corps and large delegations will attend from Sharon, Shullsburg, Monroe, Beloit and Janesville.

Baking Of Brick: In an explanation of the process of making brick by the Huennne & Co's. patented process, given in Saturday's issue of the Gazette, a technical error inadvertently slipped in, which while manifestly an error, and incapable of misleading anyone, cannot well go uncorrected. The statement was made that a silicate of lime is formed by the combination of the hydrated lime, and the siliceous acid of the "lime." As was evident to the reader, the siliceous acid was present in the sand, rather than in the lime.

In Court: Chief Hogan had a couple of Sunday drunks before Judge Fifield this morning. Emory Phelps was given a fine of $1 and costs. In all $5.30 or 9 days in jail. William O'Donnell was considered equally guilty and given the same sentence as Phelps.

MUCH WORK DONE AT NEW STATION

MILWAUKEE PASSENGER DEPT.
THE SCENE OF ACTIVITY.

SLATE ROOF IS NEARLY DONE

Brick Platforms and Stone Curbs Around the Building Are Nearly Completed.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad company have most of the stone curbing along the tracks about the new passenger station in place and have a considerable portion of the brick platforms built. The one running from Jackson street to the east end of the station is about two-thirds completed. The side track along the south side of Race street which was the cause of considerable trouble when the company attempted to move it over onto the street in order to get the east platform at a full width from Jackson street to the station has been removed entirely from the street and is being laid in a straight line from Jackson street to Rudolph and Donahoe's warehouse and the Badger Coal company's yards.

This narrows up the Jackson street end of the approach to the station somewhat but does not injure it materially. The slaters have the main roof to the new station covered and started this morning on covering the main sheds with slate.

The officials of the road expect to get into the new station somewhere about the first of December.

It has not yet been fully settled what will be done with the old passenger station, but it will at least be moved from its present location to give the tracks a straight approach to the new station.

REALTY COMPANY IS INCORPORATED

Local Capitalists Are Interested in Large Company for Advancing City's Business Interests.

Articles incorporating the Janesville Realty company were filed with the secretary of state at Madison Friday. The capital stock of the company is $25,000 and the incorporators are L. B. Carr, S. B. Smith, M. G. Jeff, J. O. Howe and George G. Sutherland. The new company is formed for the purpose of dealing in realty and manufacturing properties and the advancement of the business interests of the city. The incorporators are the same persons with the exception of P. H. Korst, who purchased the Janesville Electric company.

The amended articles of the Janesville Electric company by which the capital stock was increased from $30,000 to $100,000 were also filed with the secretary of state at the same time.

GUN EXPLODES IN McVICAR'S HANDS
In Attempt to Kill a Duck at Lake Koshkonong, a Valuable Gun Is Ruined.

William McVicar had the misfortune to wreck his valuable L. C. Smith gun while hunting at Lake Koshkonong, Friday afternoon. Mr. McVicar had a crippled duck and put in a squall load to shoot it over. He fired the charge at the duck which gave no indication that the load had struck it. In fact there was not force enough in the charge of powder to force the shot and wads out of the barrel and they lodged about eighteen inches from the muzzle.

Mr. McVicar did not think but that the barrel was clear of obstruction and put in a shell, with a full sized charge in it and fired at the duck. The result was that when the charge reached the obstruction in the barrel, it had to get out some way so went out through the side of the barrel, making a ragged hole about eight inches long and ruining the barrel.

It was fortunate for Mr. McVicar that the rent came beyond where he grasped the gun barrels with his left hand, or he would undoubtedly have had a very badly lacerated hand. As it was he was not hurt by the explosion.

VALUABLE HORSES
NEARLY DROWNED
Fell into the River and Rescued Themselves After Being Freed from Wagon.

A pair of horses belonging to Milo Curtis, engaged in hauling dirt to the steep dump on the river bank just south of Monterey bridge, slipped on the steep incline on Saturday afternoon and rolled down the bank into the river.

As the river was quite deep at this point and considerable help was necessary to get the horses out of the river, someone pulled box 52, at the corner of Center and Western avenues and the fire department was soon on hand to help the animals out of the river.

The horses were loosened from the wagon and ropes placed about their necks. The crowd which had assembled tried to haul them up the bank. They were not successful and one of the horses finally got loose from the rope and started out to get out of the water. He did not try to climb the steep bank, but turned around and swam across the river above the dam, landing safely on the bank near the big rack.

The other horse had a rope about his neck and Peter Champion and Jack Aldrich had hold of the end of the rope. This horse after being half choked, turned and swam across the neck of water on the south side of the river, pulling the boat in which were Champion and Aldrich, after him. He soon reached the land and walked on shore all right.

The horses know that they could not climb the steep bank, so took the best way out of the difficulty.

COCKRANE TRACKS BOLD HORSE THIEF

Man Who Stole Goods from a Farmer at Sharon Is Arrested at Freeport.

A horse thief who has operated quite extensively through Southern Wisconsin and Northern Illinois, was captured Saturday at Freeport, Ill., through some fine detective work on the part of Under Sheriff Wallace Cockrane.

Some time ago a horse blanket and saddle were stolen from a farmer near Sharon, and suspicion rested on a man giving his name as Clarence Mactee. Cards with a description of the stolen property and the supposed culprit were sent out by the officers soon after the robbery. Shortly after the Sharon robbery another theft was reported from Freeport, where a horse and buggy were stolen.

Under Sheriff Cockrane concluded from the description sent out by the officers that one man had done both jobs. He started out on a still hunt and soon located the horse stolen at Sharon. In the meantime Mactee had been arrested at Freeport. After locating the Sharon horse, Officer Cockrane notified the sheriff of Walworth county who went to Freeport and found that the horse stolen was from near Sharon and the man in custody there was the man he was looking for. Under Sheriff Cockrane has been unusually successful in locating horse thieves and has several catches to his credit so far this year.

LOCALS PLAYED A PLUCKY GAME

FAST FOOTBALL BY JANESVILLE
HIGH SCHOOL ELEVEN.

MADISON GOT 1 TOUCH DOWN

After That Neither Side Scored, But the Ball Was Kept in Madison's Territory.

In one particular Saturday's game between the local high school men and the Madison eleven bore a decided resemblance to the great game which the Madison Varsity team was playing in Chicago at the same time. The only touchdown of the game was made in the first few minutes of play, and after that the men got down to hard straight football with no scoring on either side. For a high school contest, the game was a "crackerjack" and the local men having reason to feel elated over the showing they made. They were shut out, it is true, by six points, but from that time on the pluckiness remained in the territory of the victors, hardly crossing the center of the field.

Madison won the toss up and kicked off to the local men. On the third down about a foot was left to gain, when Palmer at quarter fumbled. Madison got the ball and before the Janesville men had recovered their breath, the Capitalites had made their first and last touchdown, McKenna carrying the ball over the line. Berg kicked goal and the score stood 6 to 0 in Madison's favor, where it remained to the end of the two twenty-minute halves.

Weakest On Ends
From that time on the Bower City boys put their teeth together, and played football. They took the ball over into the Badger's domain and held it there throughout the second half. They never came closer to a touchdown for themselves than the fourteen yard line, but they effectually played the dog in the manger, and kept their opponents from running up a bigger score.

Twice the Madison eleven decided on a goal from the field. Once Miller more got into the play in time to block the kick, and the other time the ball failed to go between the goal posts. Casey did some magnificent work on defense, and was up to his usual standard in puncturing the line. The line was rather weak, and was especially pregnable outside the tackles.

WITH THE ATHLETES

Michigan now holds that Saturday's victory settled the foot ball championship of 1902, but as Wisconsin will not concede the maize and gold argument that they are not as strong this year as last there is little probability of an agreement on that point.

Coach Stagg said that the Michigan team was the equal or in the same class with the great eastern eleven. Although humiliated from its defeat from Purdue, the Northwestern team has renounced its purpose of disbanding, and will go to work with new vim for the Wisconsin game on Saturday.

The Illinois victory over Indiana has sent Illinois stock up several points. Their next objective point is a victory over Minneapolis on Saturday.

Iowa's great difficulty now is to get the team to play with the runner. Walter Camp, Yale's athletic advisor, suffered a dislocation of his foot last week yesterday afternoon by slipping on a stone.

On the Chicago bowling alleys last week the 300 mark was again endangered by three individual strings of 278 and 277.

Saturday's games showed that Yale has not gotten into form as rapidly as Harvard, and the former team is suffering a corresponding slump in spirits.

Wednesday's game at Athletic park in the Denison cup class play will prove one of the most exciting contests on the home grounds this season if all expectations are fulfilled.

PAVING OF STREETS IS PROGRESSING
Contractors Expect to Finish All the Work Before Cold Weather Sets In.

Brown & Connors have a force of men at work on the North High street improvement. They are now excavating between West Milwaukee and Wall streets and will have all of the excavating done shortly if the good weather continues. The macadam work on North Franklin street is about finished and will be completed in a day or two. The street has the appearance of being a first class job. They have nine teams hauling stone from the crusher and keep the force there busy getting out the material for them.

Blake Bros., who have been putting in the cement curbing for them on all the streets will finish up their part of the contract in a few days.

Brown & Connors expect to have all the streets completed and ready for acceptance before the cold weather sets in.

VILLAGE LIBRARY.

SOME SUGGESTIONS ON HOW TO CONDUCT ONE.

Of Great Value If the Right Kind of Books Are Chosen—Constitution and Bylaws to Start a Library Upon a Right Basis.

The village library is growing more and more an indispensable adjunct to American village life, writes E. I. Stevenson in the New York Times. It comes into existence and thrives naturally, almost spontaneously. In the large towns or even in the smaller towns, intelligence and public sentiment appreciate its work. In the case, however, of the smallest communities scattered about our country, where its beneficial functions ought to be exercised on a smaller radius, a library's outsetting and conducting are more difficult matters. To start it upon a right basis and to see that it conducts its work efficiently the constitution for such an undertaking must be simple, but effective. If this be well framed, it is valuable in taking the place of less formal responsibility among individuals.

Even a small library must be on a practical working basis. Its written constitution must not merely contain rules for its work and the duties of those concerned in this work, but hints that are practical and judicial beyond any such letter of the law.

The writer begs to submit the following constitution, which may be useful to those who would like to set about some such village work even on a very modest footing to begin with, but who are not quite sure of what definite regulations and admonitions ought to be included in its outset.

CONSTITUTION OF THE TOWN FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Article I. This association shall be incorporated and known as "The Town Free Public Library."

Art. II. Its object shall be the diffusion of useful and otherwise beneficial literature within the community of town, in the state of Art. III. All residents of the place named of proper age, either temporarily or permanently, shall be entitled to the privileges of the library, provided such temporary residence be not less than two weeks, but to the reading room of the library all such residents and visitors for even a shorter time than two weeks shall be welcome.

Art. IV. In the character of the books and periodicals which the library means to put at the service of this community a preference shall be given to other works than those of fiction, at least for the present. A very limited amount of fiction shall be admissible to the library as it grows, and the special functions of this library shall be educational, particularly in the connections of history, biography, travel, popular science, higher belles lettres and art.

Art. V. The practical control of this library shall be vested in the hands of a committee of five persons, to be known as the "committee of the Town Free Public Library," who shall take cognizance of all its affairs. This committee can include at least two nonresident members. The committee shall be selected by a vote of the residents annually. The chairman of the committee shall be chosen by a vote of the committee.

Art. VI. The selection of the books and periodicals and their purchase shall be made by a committee of three members chosen from the above library committee and known as the book committee. In their hands shall rest the responsibility of adding all the literary matter for the library either purchased or acquired by gift or otherwise.

Art. VII. The library shall occupy the most convenient and suitable quarters possible to it all the year round. Sec. 2. Its daily custody and practical functions shall be committed to a librarian chosen by the full library committee by a majority out of five votes. This librarian shall be entitled to such assistants as from time to time may be found expedient, such assistants to be elected by a vote of the full library committee.

BYLAWS.

1. The librarian shall receive such compensation in the way of an annual salary as the committee shall set forth by vote. 2. The librarian shall be on duty on such days of the week as the library committee shall select, from 10 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the evening or for such other hours as the committee shall set, and if, in time, the library can beneficially be kept open for the greater part of the day and evening the librarian must give all his or her time to the work of the library.

3. The librarian shall keep a register of all fines due the library.

4. The librarian shall be personally responsible for one-half of the aggregate amount of all fines of the library at the end of each six months not collected except by special excuse by the library committee.

5. The librarian shall make a written report each six months to the library committee in which shall be set forth the number of books not in loan, the number of books in loan, the number of fines due, their aggregate amount and any other practical matters concerning the library. 6. Books can be loaned to any resident of this place for a suitable period, including those persons residing here for not less than two weeks and to those permanently residing near the town's limits, but not actually in them, having no other library privileges.

7. Only one book can be loaned to one person per week. In the case of works in several volumes only one volume in the set can be loaned at a time to one person.

8. Patrons leaving the town on longer absences than a week must not take away books loaned to them.

9. A fine of 10 cents shall be imposed on the detention of any book for one day beyond the due date of its return and of 2 cents for each day after the first day's nonreturn so fined at 10 cents.

10. The librarian shall be financially responsible for books or periodicals lost through his or her fault.

11. The library committee of the whole shall hold a meeting every six months to adjust any business, unless there be absolutely none but that for which the book committee can and come together. 12. This constitution and these bylaws can be altered or added to only by a majority of votes in the full library committee, taken at a special meeting called for the purpose of considering and acting on the matter.

Such is the working model of the village library's organization. With apologies for any shortcomings in it the framer of it offers it for use, with all needful improvements that others may make in it. "We are a reading people, sir," proudly declares one of Mr. Dickens' Americans in "Martin Chuzzlewit." We are such indeed, and more such each year and generation. It is to be hoped that even our small towns, with very small public libraries, may help on the process.

ELECTION NOTICE.

To The Electors of Rock County:

Notice is hereby given that a general election is to be held in the several towns, wards, and election precincts in the county of Rock, on the 4th day of Nov., 1902, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to this office, are given opposite the title of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper column, and the questions submitted to a vote are stated below.

INFORMATION TO VOTERS.

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters. A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk which must have indorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for. If it be a general election these words are to follow: The voter if he wishes to vote for all the candidates nominated by any party, should make a cross mark X under the party designation printed at the top of the ballot in the circle made for that purpose. A ballot so marked, and having no other mark, will be counted for all the candidates of that party in the column underneath, unless the names of some of the candidates of the party have been erased or a cross mark be placed in the square under the name or at any place in the space occupied by the name or names of candidates in another column, and will be counted for any name written in lieu of one erased. If the voter wishes to vote for some of the candidates of different political parties, he should make a cross mark under the name of each candidate he desires to vote for, or at any place within the space in which the name is printed. If he wishes to vote for a person for a certain office whose name is not on the ballot, he must write the name in the blank space under the printed name of the candidate for the office. The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled, it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all to any one voter. Five minutes' time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandums to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter. After it is marked, it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed endorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place. A voter who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of one or two election officers in marking the same, to be chosen by the voter; and if he declares that he is totally blind, he may be assisted by any person chosen by him from among the legal voters of the county. The presiding officer may administer an oath in his discretion, as to such person's disability. The party designations and candidates for the different offices are as follows:

The following are the amendments to the constitution to be voted for by the voters at said election as certified to by the Secretary of State.

Section 4. The legislature shall have power to enact a general banking law for the creation of banks, and for the regulation and supervision of the banking business, provided that at the vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house, to be taken by yeas and nays, be in favor of the passage of such law.

YES NO

SHALL THE AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE XI, OF THE CONSTITUTION BE ADOPTED?.....

If you wish to vote for the amendment, make a cross in the square under the word "Yes," if against it, make a cross under the word "No."

Section 1. The supervision of public instruction shall be vested in a state superintendent and such other officers as the legislature shall direct; and their qualifications, powers, duties and compensation shall be prescribed by law. The state superintendent shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the state at the same time and in the same manner as members of the supreme court, and shall hold his office for four years from the succeeding first Monday in July. The state superintendent chosen at the general election in November, 1902, shall hold and continue in his office until the first Monday in July, 1905, and his successor shall be chosen at the time of the judicial election in April 1905. The term of office, time and manner of electing or appointing all other officers of supervision of public instruction shall be fixed by law.

YES NO

SHALL THE AMENDMENT TO SECTION 1, OF ARTICLE X, OF THE CONSTITUTION BE ADOPTED?.....

If you wish to vote for the amendment, make a cross in the square under the word "Yes," if against it, make a cross under the word "No."

Section 11. No person, association, co-partnership or corporation, shall promise, offer, or give for any purpose, to any political committee, or any member or employee thereof, to any candidate for, or incumbent of any office or position under the constitution or laws, or under any ordinance of any town or municipality of this state, or to any person at the request or for the advantage of all, or any of them, any free pass or frank, or any privilege withheld from any person, for the traveling accommodation or transportation of any person or property, or the transmission of any message or communication. No political committee, and no member or employee thereof, no candidate for, and no incumbent of any office or position under the constitution of laws, or under any ordinance of any town or municipality of this state, shall ask for or accept, from any person, association, co-partnership, or corporation, or use, in any manner, or for any purpose any free pass or frank, or any privilege withheld from any person, for the traveling accommodation or transportation of any person or property, or the transmission of any message or communication. Any violation of any of the above provisions shall be bribery and be punished as provided by law, or if any officer or any member of the legislature be guilty thereof, his office shall become vacant. No person within the purview of this act shall be privileged from testifying in relation to anything therein prohibited; and no person having so testified shall be liable to any prosecution or punishment for any offense concerning which he was required to give his testimony or produce any documentary evidence. The railroad commissioner and his deputy in the discharge of duty are excepted from the provisions of this amendment.

GIRL'S COURAGE

(Original)
"I hear you spent vacation at the seashore," said the senior to the junior. "I suppose you sat on the beach with a girl, lulled by the music of the waves."

"Music of the waves, rot! I heard that when I'd rather have heard a steam whistle screech in my ear."

"How was that?"

"I admit there was a girl in it. Speaking of girls, do you know they never have the sense to be frightened at the proper time. At least, that was the way with the girl in this case. You know I've always been 'atuck' on ocean canoeing. This year I took my canoe to X, on the coast of Maine. It's risky, I tell you. I knew it and took all the care I could. I never went out except in the best of weather and always took a compass and a barometer. I reached X in July and paddled outside every day that was fine and the sea was not too rough, so that by the last days of August I had my hand well in. I would feel my way, so to speak, watching the sky and the water, with an occasional look at my instruments. The people all thought I was foolhardy, but what the fun without a speck of danger?"

"One afternoon when the sea was especially smooth and the sky serene I paddled farther than usual. There's a singular feeling in being far from land in a canoe, heaved up and down as the waves roll under you, nothing but sky above you and water all around. There's such a ghostly loneliness about it, such helplessness. All a fellow can do is to dexterously avoid the force of the waves with his paddle, as a man might keep patting a tiger's eyes with a stick so as to prevent his devouring him. Kneeling in the canoe, I was always on a level with the water, at one time poised on a crest, at another far down in the trough. It's a singular sensation, different from any other I have ever experienced."

"Suddenly glancing at my barometer, I saw it was sinking. I swept the horizon with my eye and lo and behold saw a black cloud rising. In an instant I got one leg straight forward and made for shore with all my strength."

"I was still a mile away from the harbor's mouth when I saw ahead of me the flashes of a double bladed paddle. Then I remembered that a lot of college girls had come to X, the day before who had been canoeing in the interior, and my blood ran cold as it occurred to me that some one of them had been crazy enough to come out on to the ocean. I have plenty of muscle and was putting in my best work, so that I gained on the canoe ahead and soon saw a girl in a Tam O'Shanter and blue sweater kneeling and paddling for the shore."

"All of a sudden there came a white space under the rising cloud, and the whole heaven seemed to shoot toward the zenith. There was a terrific puff of wind, and for thirty seconds I had all I could do to keep my boat afloat. Then came a lull, and I looked for the canoe ahead, expecting to see it bottom up. To my surprise and relief, there was the girl battling with the water. She was pretty close to me, for she had been blown outward, while I had partly held my own. I halted her, directing her to slow up and I would run alongside. When I did so, I found her as cool as a cucumber. Whether she realized that she and I both were almost certain to be blown out to sea I did not know. At any rate, I admired her pluck."

"You must get into my canoe," I said.

"And leave mine? No, thank you."

"Then I can't help you."

"Who asked for help?" she said.

"I then pulled up in front of her, and as my quarter grazed her bow I grabbed both rails with my hands and rolled over into her canoe."

"Perhaps at this point you're looking for some fine talk. Well, here it is: 'Lie down in the bottom,' I said. 'Lie down yourself.' It was a case of life or death. 'Lie down or I'll brain you with this oar.' She saw that the time had come to quit sailing and lay down. I paddled away against the wind, making little headway, expecting every wave as it came on to twist the canoe around and roll us over. Thanks to long practice, I evaded them, but it was discouraging, after safely riding one, to see a bigger one right upon me. The fool girl kept poking up her head, and every time I rode a wave she'd exclaim 'Bravo! Isn't it fine?' as though I were performing in a circus."

"Well, we got into the harbor and both stepped on dry land."

"What did you mean by going out there?" I asked, a sudden anger coming over me after the terrible ordeal, as though she was to blame for the whole affair."

"I'm sorry I forgot to ask your permission," she replied.

"Don't you know that we have escaped drowning as by a miracle?"

"She cast a glance out over the angry waters."

"It does look pretty rough out there. Much obliged to you, Goodby. I go back to college tomorrow. We're allowed to receive Friday evenings. Sorry you lost your canoe."

"She ran off to her hotel, which was near by, leaving me to take care of her boat. Now that she was safe ashore she was beginning to get frightened. The nearer she got to the hotel the faster she ran, and just as she reached the piazza I saw her fall into some woman's arms. She was the biggest!"

"How many times have you been to see her?" asked the senior.

"How many? Let me see. I think it's six," replied the junior sheepishly.
